Catarrh to Consumption

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies [illegible] by ignorant pretenders [illegible] weaken the confidence of the great majority [illegible] advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combated with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage [illegible] hearing [illegible] and irritated [illegible]

A Strange Story of Weddings from Georgia—Salt Lake to be Stocked with Shad—Washington Notes.

EDITOR O'BRIEN

Another Statement of His Trouble with McGlynn and George.

NEW YORK, June 5.—[illegible] of the [illegible] ward [illegible] of the Irish National League to-day [illegible] made an address in which he highly commended Editor O'Brien for refusing to attend the mass meeting last night. O'Grady said [illegible] should be mixed up with no other [illegible] religious prejudices that formerly separated the Irish people [illegible] that had passed from [illegible] applauded.

O'Brien [illegible] his dealings with [illegible] the action should be directed [illegible] the Irish cause and [illegible] already unfairly [illegible] American issues and [illegible] of the American people [illegible] success. [illegible] the committee at first brought him the [illegible] O'Brien, McMackin, in accordance with this [illegible] Sunday evening [illegible] could not be changed [illegible] presiding officer should preside. He then declined to alter his determination.

A TALK WITH O'BRIEN

NEW YORK, June 5.—O'Brien has received numerous telegrams congratulating him on the course he took in regard to the parade last night. Being interviewed to-day he said:

I have not the smallest apprehension that Irish Nationalists will misunderstand my action. They know how many malignant enemies are watching every word and act of ours in order to torture them into weapons against Gladstone and Parnell. I am satisfied they will also feel that I have acted under a painful and solemn sense of responsibility to our great leader Parnell, and from a conviction that any other course would have brought utter destruction of the movement at a moment when the opinion of millions of English people is trembling in the balance and when the most unscrupulous devices are being used against us."

Mr. O'Brien was astounded at the statement from the platform in Union square that he had scored out the resolution referring to Dr. McGlynn. The resolutions submitted by the committee contained no allusion direct or indirect to McGlynn's case, and the only reference in the conferences to him was the statement that McGlynn was to be present and speak. To that arrangement he had no objection. Mr. O'Brien added:

As to the insulting suggestion that I was captured by Tammany hall or any American politicians, I can say that if an American politician had been guilty of the remotest attempt to influence my judgment in the direction of serving any American party and interest I should have resisted any such attempt as surely as I feel obliged to resist the attempt to identify us with the particular organization by which the parade was conducted.

A SPEECH BY McMACKIN

NEW YORK, June 5.—At a largely attended meeting of the anti-poverty society to-night Dr. McGlynn was the principal speaker. In the course of his remarks he said O'Brien probably did not know before who John McMackin was, but he knows to-day. O'Brien ought to be ashamed of himself for erasing the resolution that the land belongs to the people. O'Brien is a landlord at heart himself. It is only a question of small percentage between O'Brien and Lansdowne. The speaker said: When our friends discovered that they could not [illegible] with O'Brien they determined to go on and give him a dose of coercion. They [illegible] sent their own greeting to Ireland [illegible] We thought the coercion clause would displease O'Brien and some of his advisers.

McMackin made a speech in which he said he has only contempt for a man who would [illegible] to acts of violence.

O'BRIEN DENOUNCED

NEW YORK, June 5.—A stormy session of the Central Labor Union was held to-day. John McMackin made an address denouncing Editor O'Brien for his action in refusing to attend the mass meeting last night. McMackin declared that he would lower the flag at the command of [illegible] ecclesiastical power or corrupt politicians. If Catholics were to be controlled by foreign power there would be good cause for the statement that they were not citizens. Resolutions were adopted denouncing Editor O'Brien for his action.

Shippers wishing sail vessels to carry general merchandise on the coast find it impossible to secure them. Two steamers and several sailing vessels are now employed in carrying railroad ties to the southern part of the state.

The bark D. C. Murray made application yesterday to dock at the Beale street wharf. The wharfinger is furnished with a black list containing the names of vessels that are in arrears for wharfage. As the Murray was in arrears for a large amount she was refused a berth. An appeal was made to the harbor commissioners. It was then ascertained that since the bill for wharfage was incurred the vessel had [illegible] at Port Townsend [illegible] States marshal [illegible] the vessel to dock and she will come into her berth to-day.

A BIT OF HISTORY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—During the afternoon of June 4, 1849, thirty-eight years ago yesterday, the old steamship Panama entered the bay of San Francisco with passengers and mail from the East via the Isthmus of Panama. She was commanded at that time by David D. Porter, present admiral of the United States navy. At San Diego the steamer landed the commissioners selected by the government to locate the boundary line between Mexico and the United States. John B. Weller of Ohio, subsequently governor of California, was chief of the commission. Among her passengers were many persons who subsequently attained prominence in the community. Among them were Wm. M. Gwin, Edward Pooley, John A. Collins, Samuel Ward, Joseph Hooker (afterward general), Henry B. Livingston, F. W. McKinstry, G. H. Derby, J. E. Jewett, F. W. H. Cronise and John V. Plume. Among the lady passengers were Mrs. Robert Allen, wife of Maj. Gen. Allen, Mrs. Jessie C. Fremont and Mrs. Alfred Dewitt.

DENNIS KEARNEY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Dennis Kearney made his second appearance this season on the sand lots this afternoon before a small but at times appreciative audience. The subjects discussed by the agitator were varied, including the all absorbing question of Chinese immigration and a general review of everything and everybody calculated to entertain his listeners. During the course of his remarks the speaker reviewed the public and private life of the federal judges with considerable minuteness and ended by advocating the establishment of a home for aged women in San Francisco.

THE ST. LOUIS WRANGLE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The New York Tribune's Washington special to the Chronicle says: Maj. J. B. Burke, commander of the department, yesterday received the following dispatch from St. Louis: Would you oppose the president coming to St. Louis during the encampment as guest of citizens only? The following was Burke's reply: The National encampment accepted St. Louis' invitation to be its honored guest. The city must determine the propriety of inviting the president to be present on that occasion.

He is now being engaged in making a tour of the world. British residents here are making preparations to give him a proper reception on his arrival.

SHALL MAN LIVE AGAIN?

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—The well known English scientist, Dr. Alfred Wallace, gathered a large audience before him in Metropolitan hall this evening, who were evidently anxious to hear an answer to Job's significant question "If a man die shall he live again?" He characterized his theme as the question of questions, which ancient scientists considered [illegible] He believed that if the question were decided negatively it left man [illegible] hopeless, destroying the hope of reward for justice, truth and unselfishness and placing no restraint upon the evil tendencies of man. THE WASHOUTS [illegible]

HELENA, June 5.—Cold weather and cold rains have stopped the rise and Clarke's Fork is gradually falling—six inches in the last twelve hours. The washouts have been repaired and trains are coming through. Thursday's train from Portland was delayed twenty-four hours by washouts going east. Manager Dickey personally superintended the repairs and no more delays are probable.

THE SITUATION AT MULLAN TUNNEL

HELENA, June 5.—Passengers still have to be transferred over Mullan tunnel. The Northern Pacific have twenty Anaconda miners working at timbering and pay $5 per day and board.

President Harris will not come West. He is now at Butte and leaves for New York Tuesday.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

MINING NOTES FROM SPOKANE FALLS

SPOKANE FALLS, June 5.—Philip O'Rourke and Cornelius Sullivan, two of the lucky discoverers of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan, have purchased a two-thirds interest in the Omaha mine in the Ward [illegible] group.

Very little work is at present being done in the Coeur d'Alenes owing to the high water which still prevails. A good many mining properties are, however, changing hands, and as the summer [illegible] a good deal of activity will be evidenced. On the summit between Murray and Wardner there is still several feet of snow and most of the [illegible] in heights are still covered.

The floods throughout this division of the territory are now subsiding. The Spokane river in the past twenty four hours fell eighteen inches and a similar fall is reported from Coeur d'Alene lake. No train from the East has yet arrived, but the washout which gave trouble at Bearmouth has been replaced.

Rain fell in this section yesterday and to-day giving the much needed relief to the farming interests.

FRANCE

THE GRAND PRIZE OF PARIS

PARIS, June 5.—The race for the grand prix of Paris was run at Chantilly to-day and was won by M. Aumont's bay filly Tenebreuse. M. Dasmont's colt The Baron was second and Baron Schickler's bay colt Krakatoa third. The other starters were Merry Hampton, Monarch, St. Luc, Lesaney, Espiotel, Bavarde, Gourray and Vanneau. A good start was made, St. Luc and Lesaney taking the lead, followed by The Baron, Merry Hampton and Bavarde, Espiotel being last. After the first thousand yards Monarch yielded and for fifty yards along the incline Lesaney made the play. At the last round The Baron went to the front along side of Tenebreuse and Merry Hampton. Tenebreuse then went ahead and won easily by two lengths.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR

PARIS, June 5.—Since Cardinal Gibbons made a report on the Knights of Labor at Rome the order has grown famous in Europe. Cardinal Manning's letter has been followed by a long essay on the organization of Knights in the current number of the Revue Politique et Litteraire. In an article on Catholic socialism John LeMoine also gives them some prominence. On his return from Rome Bishop Keane, one of their staunchest defenders, went out of his way to discuss the Knights in a similar address to the students at the [illegible] Seminary.

PORTLAND, MONDAY JUNE 6, 1887

A NEW SITUATION

In the wider development of the country now upon us, the question of Portland's relationship to the Columbia river basin becomes a very serious one. In the past we have had the trade of the basin because it has been impossible for it to go elsewhere. Before the railroads, there was only the river and Portland sat at the only gate affording ingress or egress. Then came the Northern Pacific and later the Union Pacific, both ending at Portland. It was two hundred miles more west to Portland and two thousand miles or more east to St. Paul [illegible] and with these favoring conditions Portland has recently played a winning game.

But the situation now changes. The Northern Pacific has made a way for itself across the Cascade mountains to Puget sound and announces its purpose of making a commercial city at Tacoma. Its first effort will be to divert a share of the trade of the Columbia river basin to Tacoma. Wherever its lines in Eastern Washington or Idaho command the traffic, there will be discrimination against Portland. It will be made to the interest of the farmer to ship his grain to Tacoma and to the interest of the local merchant to buy his goods at Tacoma. And with the eagerness of this company to build up its town, with its patronage of every Tacoma interest and its steady discrimination against Portland, it will not be surprising if in those districts where there is no competition in carriage, it should be able to do us very considerable harm. Portland's advantage, growing out of her large and stable trade organization, as compared with the limited facilities for business at Tacoma, cannot be overcome but we are likely to lose some trade at Cheney, Sprague, Spokane Falls and in Northern Idaho.

Nor is this all. Besides the Northern Pacific there will soon be another road into Eastern Washington inviting trade to Helena and other eastern points. It is no secret that the Manitoba road has its eye upon this field. We have information direct from an agent of the company that its line will be through Northern Idaho and into Eastern Washington within twelve months. Thus it will be seen that from this time forth Portland must meet competition in a field which heretofore she has practically monopolized. We ought certainly to be able to do this successfully. We have a level route to all parts of the Columbia river basin, while between the basin and Puget sound and eastern points there are high mountains. We have a complete trade organization fully able to compete with Helena or St. Paul while Tacoma has none to speak of. With equal facilities for transportation—that is, equality as to distance, time and rates—we can hold every mile of territory which we now reach and, as settlement widens, follow it into every corner of the great basin.

Our future relations with the basin depend largely upon the Union Pacific Railroad Company. If the policy of this company in the management of its leased line, the Oregon Railway & Navigation, is energetic and aggressive, if it pushes out into new territory and into competition with the Northern Pacific, in short, if it affords us direct access to all parts of the basin, we shall be able to hold the trade we have and gain more with the growth of the country. But if it is content simply to operate its existing lines, if it fails to reach out for new territory, [illegible] the business that we now have and [illegible] benefit or none at all from the opening of new districts.

At this time it is highly important for Portland that two branches at least should be thrown out from the Oregon Railway & Navigation lines into the country north of Snake river. Besides the proposed Coeur d'Alene branch so urgently needed at this time, there should be built without delay a branch to Spokane Falls. This young city is the center of a vast country. In a very few years it has easily won the third place in the list of northwestern cities. Portland and Seattle alone now lead it in population and volume of business, and in business enterprise and spirit it is, within its opportunities, equal to either of the cities named. Its water power is unsurpassed in the whole world, more than double that at Minneapolis, and so distributed as to make it most practically effective. Spokane Falls is clearly destined to be a very considerable city, a center for a vast agricultural and mineral country and an important seat of manufacture. Its natural alliance is with Portland. It is nearer to Portland in miles than to any other commercial center, with the further advantage of a level route. Its business community is largely made up of Portland men, disposed by every sentimental consideration to maintain a close connection with our city. Direct rail connection is the first and absolute necessity. The interests of Portland and of the Union Pacific alike demand it.

Some years ago the Oregon Railway & Navigation and the Northern Pacific entered into one of those agreements which seem to be made only to be broken, by which the basin was partitioned between them. The Oregon Railway & Navigation agreed to restrict its business to the country south of Snake river, excepting of course its Palouse branch which was in operation at that time. The Northern Pacific agreed [illegible] Snake river [illegible] enter the [illegible] Palouse branch. Of course [illegible] Oregon Railway & Navigation [illegible] to the traffic [illegible] business of Portland [illegible] heavy dividends [illegible] expected [illegible] have been themselves no [illegible] extraordinary lethargy.

Under new management we hope will not be so regardless of its own interests. It may [illegible] see, with the advantages of a level route to tide water and established trade and market facilities at Portland, command the bulk if not the whole of the traffic of the basin. If it will furnish the facilities for direct transportation the merchants of Portland will do the rest.

The managers of the East Portland Reduction Works now see that their little plant is too small for the work ahead. At a meeting of the stockholders Friday the capital stock was increased from $[illegible] to $[illegible], the idea being to erect works of great capacity. There will be no trouble, we are told, in [illegible] this stock. We are glad to see our people take hold of this matter energetically. The first thing for Portland to do to secure the business of the mines about us on every side is to make a market here for ores. This will be the immediate effect of such an establishment as is now proposed to be set up.

The San Francisco Chronicle warns miners and others interested in unpatented mining claims along the lines of the Central Pacific, Southern Pacific and California & Oregon, or within the land grants of these roads, that they will do well to keep an eye upon the lands which the managers of these roads are now "listing," preparatory to asking patents therefor. A large proportion of the lands so listed is in "the mineral reservation."

There is some talk at San Francisco of building a yacht of "California materials" to compete for the America's cup. California materials as in such cases usually means yellow fir and spars from Puget sound, with ash and finishing woods from Oregon. Nevertheless, we hope the craft will be entered in the race and that she will win it.

GOD IN THE CONSTITUTION

The dispatches of THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN include the moving announcement that the synod of the Reformed Presbyterian church in America have resolved to refrain from voting for any candidate for any office the incumbent of which must take an oath to support the constitution of the United States as long as that constitution fails to recognize the existence of God.

Did the Reformed Presbyterian church of America ever hear of Rev. Dr. Theodore D. Woolsey, for many years president of Yale College, a distinguished writer on all topics of political economy and social science? If the Reformed Presbyterian church know who Rev. Dr. Woolsey is, they are not ignorant of the fact that he is a devout Christian of as orthodox a type as Rev. Dr. Noah Porter. This distinguished Christian thinker once wrote a paper in reply to these "God in the constitution" enthusiasts. We remember that he concluded his argument by asking whether a constitution which separates religious from civil interests can be called Christian, or rather as he put it, "May a community which thinks that religion will be purer if severed from the state properly be described as an unchristian state?" He denied it, and said that such a state was no more unchristian than an academy of science without a creed, or a mercantile firm without daily prayers in the counting house. He then explained that his is a Christian country only in the sense that the vast mass of the people accept the Christian religion, and that our civilization was founded upon Christian influence and faith, but that Webster was wrong in asserting in the Girard case that Christianity is the law of the land, and that our national experience confirms the wisdom of the fathers in making the nation in its declaration of fundamental principles which we call our constitution as colorless of all suggestion of state religious faith or creed as it is destitute of any color of state dress or manners. It does seem as if the "God in the constitution" people might read Rev. Dr. Woolsey on this subject with considerable benefit to their clouded minds. They are as absolutely lacking in that common sense which is never wanting in clear and high moral sense, as the devoutly stupid Turkish fruit peddler, who was described as striding about the streets of Stamboul solemnly proclaiming, "In the name of the Prophet—figs."

When Lincoln wrote his immortal proclamation of emancipation Secretary Chase added the sentence "and upon this act, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the favor of almighty God," and both Lee and Jackson always began a bulletin announcing a victory for the cause of the slaveholder's rebellion by saying that "under the favor and blessing of almighty God success has again crowned our arms." So there we had almighty God's favor invoked by Lincoln when he shotted his cannon with a proclamation of freedom to the slave, and also by Lee and Jackson when they won a victory for a cause whose success stood for the perpetuation of slavery. Now the South and the North united in forming the constitution, and they lived under it for over seventy years; they didn't put "God" into it, and because they didn't we suppose these constitutional enthusiasts would argue that we saw slavery flourish and finally shoot at the constitution, but suppose that "God" had been put into the constitution and the war for the Union had taken place, why then the God, invoked by Lee and Jackson, would be constitutionally construed by them to be a sort of Moloch of slavery while the God Lincoln invoked would be constitutionally construed to be God, the Christ, in spite of whose humane teachings slavery had waxed fat until it flew, sword in hand, at the throat of freedom to snatch and spurn under its feet the flag for whose success Lincoln invoked the gracious favor of almighty God.

It seems to us that this situation of "God in the constitution" constitutionally construed by the South to be in favor of slavery, and constitutionally by the North to be the God of freedom, would have a constitutional situation ridiculous enough to have made the angels of heaven smile sadly at silliness of man, while the cynical devils of hell would grin and snicker to hear the name of God made a constitutional football between two great sections of the nation getting ready to cut each other's throats. It looks very much as if our fathers were wise when they did not run God into a constitution that was a compromise with a crime which it legalized until one of the parties to the compromise lost his head, insisted on war, had all he wanted of it, but not until there was nothing left of the original cause of quarrel on which to found a fight or secure a compromise.

THE WILLAMETTE'S FIRST DEFEAT

THE PORTLANDS VICTORIOUS BY A SCORE OF 5 TO 3—AN EXCITING GAME

A good sized crowd visited City View park yesterday to witness the third game for the league championship between the Portland and Willamettes. Contrary to general expectation the Portlands won by a score of 5 to 3, and the Eleven [illegible] land nine for the first time this season bit the dust of defeat. Four errors, a wild pitch and one safe hit cost them four runs in the first inning and the game. Timmons and Mebus were the battery for the Portlands, and it is evident they have been practicing in the last two weeks. Timmons proved quite as effective before the bat as behind it. Only three safe hits were made off his delivery and he made the few Willamettes who reached first base hug it closely. He gave two men bases on called balls and fumbled one grounder. Except these his play was perfect. Mebus caught and threw in splendid style and took the batting honors with two [illegible] and a double [illegible] [illegible] for the Willamettes [illegible] [illegible] a perfect game [illegible] his [illegible] Mebus.

[illegible] Tom Parrott never [illegible] Dick [illegible] wonderful [illegible] Willamettes battery. McCarty of Vancouver was substituted for Wills in shortfield. He seemed very capable player.

Portlands secured their runs as follows: In the first inning after Connolly had struck out, Coulter got a life by Matholt's [illegible] McCarty's [illegible] second and took third on a wild pitch. Buchtel struck out. Smith took first on Matholt's second [illegible] Coulter scoring. Mebus [illegible] brought him home. Neale got a life by Bailey's fumble of a sharp hit grounder. Mebus scored. Neale scored on a long fly of Glendenning's which [illegible] muffed. In the seventh inning, Edwards got to first on G. Parrott's muff (Parrott was not playing first base), took second and then on passed balls and scored on Connolly's sharp hit to second.

In the fifth inning "Jiggs" Parrott reached first on a little hit which Connolly should have fielded, but didn't, took second on a passed ball and scored on Edwards's wild throw of Matholt's safe hit. Next inning McCarty got first on a red hot [illegible] that went through Buchtel's hands, took second on a passed ball and third on a ball which hit Kerns and sent him to first. Glendenning muffed Jiggs Parrott's fly, after a long run, McCarty scoring, Kerns taking third and Parrott second. Two hands were out and any sort of an error or a safe hit would have tied the score, but Matholt retired the side with a tip into Mebus's hands. In the seventh inning Drennan got first and second on Smith's wild throw, and scored on McCarty's clean hit.

Woodwell, a soldier from Vancouver, umpired for three innings, when a bounding ball from the pitcher struck him in the face crushing in his cheek bone. He will probably be disfigured for life. Charles Drennan umpired the remainder of the game with perfect impartiality. Following is

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY

OPENING EXERCISES OF THE FORTY-THIRD ANNUAL COMMENCEMENT OF THIS INSTITUTION AT SALEM

The exercises of the forty-third annual commencement of Willamette University were inaugurated Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the university chapel at Salem. The occasion was the rendition of the programme attendant upon the graduation of and the conferring of the diplomas upon the law class of three members: I. G. Denny of McCoy, Polk county, Victor J. Miller of [illegible] Grande and Daniel W. Bass of Salem.

The chapel had been prettily decorated with festoons of ivy with bouquets and vases of flowers tastefully arranged in conspicuous places. The audience was large and the exercises throughout were listened to with attention.

The evening's entertainment opened with an eight hand piano selection, Beethoven's Symphony No. 1, well executed by Misses Overholt, Pentland, Staunus and Gilbert. After prayer by Rev. E. W. Caswell of Grace street M. E. church, Portland, a vocal duet, "Flow Gently Deva," was sung by Messrs. Bowerson and Jarvis.

This selection was followed by the first graduating oration delivered by I. G. Denny. The speaker took for his subject the "True Functions of Government." The production was original, delivered impressively and treated in a manner that betokened Mr. Denny's ability. Without disparagement to his fellow graduates it may be said that this speaker's was the best appreciated oration of the evening.

A piano solo, "Grand Fantasie," was finely executed by Miss Gracie Parrish, a performer of 1[illegible] years of age.

The oration of V. J. Miller on "Civil Liberty" was an admirable effort, and was listened to attentively.

Miss Hattie Parrish, who has deservedly earned for herself the name of one of Oregon's leading vocalists, rendered charmingly and in fine voice the "Grand Valse" by Torry. An encore was demanded and responded to by the lady.

John Marshall was the subject of the oration of D. W. Bass. The speaker had evidently given some time in the preparation of his production which was well studied and well delivered.

The piano duet by Misses Moores and Dairy, "Heather Bells Polka," Kunkel, was played in excellent style and was highly applauded.

Geo. H. Burnett, professor of torts and contracts, delivered the address of the evening, [illegible] subject being the "Growth of the [illegible]," [illegible] with the Justinian period. Mr. Burnett in an interesting manner traced the development of statutory and common law through its various phases up to the present time. The address was a scholarly one [illegible] impressive.

The degrees were conferred upon the class by Judge W. M. Ramsey, dean of the law school.

The piano duet by Misses [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the programme [illegible] [illegible] very interesting [illegible] largely attended.

THE PIONEERS' REUNION

RECORD OF [illegible] THE DAY'S EXERCISES—[illegible] [illegible] BALL IN THE EVENING

The general committee of arrangements for the pioneer reunion to take place June 1[illegible] held a meeting at Portland Savings bank Saturday evening, with Mr. Pratt Delmon in the chair. [illegible] matters were discussed.

The procession will be conducted by the grand marshal, Col. John McCraken, and headed by the Vancouver military band, and the formation of the march will be as follows: All pioneers will meet at the court house and form in procession at [illegible] o'clock sharp in the order of their arrival in Oregon, the oldest in point of residence first. Each year will be indicated by a suitable flag. From the court house the route will be down Fourth street to Oak, down Oak to First, up First to Clay, up Clay to Third, up Third to entrance to Mechanics' Pavilion, where the exercises of the day will take place, consisting of music by the band, prayer by the chaplain, Rev. J. L. Parrish, patriotic songs [illegible] daughters [illegible] officers and an address by Rev. T. D. Driver, music, occasional address by Geo. L. Currey of Ashland and close with music by the band.

In the evening a grand ball will be given under the auspices of the Native Sons, with Wm. M. Ladd as chairman of the committee of arrangements with power to select his assistants.

Opportunity will be given for the old folks to assemble in the north department of the pavilion where they may indulge in reminiscences of the struggles and privations in the days gone by.

Mrs. A. Holbrook was appointed chairman of a committee for the reception of pioneer ladies with power to select her own assistants. Gen. [illegible] was appointed a committee on invitation.

Mr. Dekum and Mr. C. H. Dodd finance committee will canvass the city to-day or to-morrow for funds to defray expenses of the reunion. Prospects are good for one of the best gatherings of the kind ever held in the state, and suitable efforts will be used to make it worthy of the occasion. Portland owes much to the pioneers of Oregon and their attending this meeting should receive [illegible] attention.

BLOODTHIRSTY OFFICER

A DEPUTY SHERIFF GETS A DESERVED THRASHING—DRUNK, AS USUAL

Deputy Sheriff Smith applied to Justice Bush wider yesterday for a warrant for the arrest of one Hammond, a house mover residing on F street near West Park, on a charge of assault. The circumstances connected with the affair as related by S. Gregory, who was present, are as follows: Smith went to Hammond's place about [illegible] o'clock Saturday evening, to arrest him for a bill of $[illegible]. Smith was the worse for liquor and he exhibited his deputy sheriff's badge and called on Mr. Gregory to assist him in arresting Hammond. From the fuss made the neighbors supposed Hammond had committed some dreadful crime, as Smith avowed the intention of killing him dead. [illegible] proceeded to break in two doors of Hammond's residence and went upstairs after him, but he came down with [illegible] as if [illegible] had thrown him down. Smith threatened to [illegible] [illegible] Mr. Gregory [illegible] Hickey [illegible]

CHURCH DEDICATION

THE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH AT ALBINA CONSECRATED FOR DIVINE WORSHIP

The church of the Sacred Heart of Mary at Albina was dedicated yesterday with appropriate ceremonies by the Right Rev. Archbishop Gross assisted by the clergy.

A procession was formed here headed by carriages in which were the archbishop, Fathers Fierens, Sommers, O'Dea and DeLatte, and followed by members of the Hibernian Benevolent Society, Catholic Knights, Father Matthew Society, Catholic Library Association and members of the St. Joseph's German congregation with flags and music and marched to Albina where a large number had gathered to witness the dedication. On arriving at the platform which had been erected for the occasion Archbishop Gross delivered an interesting address on the "Rise and Progress of the Catholic Church," which was listened to with deep attention.

The procession then proceeded to dedicate it according to the ritual, by first blessing the outside and then entering reciting the Litany. The dedication being completed Archbishop Gross pronounced the episcopal benediction and the assembly dispersed.

AN INVERTED ARTESIAN WELL

PORTLAND, June 5.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

A phenomenon of peculiar interest has transpired in the past forty eight hours in the north part of Albina near the Portland Flouring Mills. Some time last summer Mr. James Church moved from his home on the hill to a small house near the powder house, so as to be near his work at the mill. He sunk a well some twenty feet deep down through the gravel to where he struck water, but as the water in the river fell the water in the well also fell so that the well became a failure. The first ten feet from the surface was loose gravel, so that it had to be curbed; the balance was a tight hard gravel standing without curbing. When the water began to rise in the river a few weeks ago the water returned in the well and rose to within ten feet of the surface and then stopped. The water in the river continued to rise, but Friday last when it reached a point so as to flow into the well from the top, when to every one's surprise the water remained the same in the well—ten feet below the surface of the water in the river. The river has been pouring into it for the past forty eight hours a stream some three feet wide and four inches deep and yet the water in the well is three feet below the surface of the river. As rapidly as the water pours in it disappears. The question is where does the water go to? Some three or four miles to the east is the Columbia river, whose surface is higher than the surface of the Willamette river at Portland. I account for it in this way: The peninsula between Portland and the Columbia river is composed for the most part of loose glacial debris in the form of gravel from which the sand has been washed and screened, leaving a great air chamber among the gravel into which the water ebbs and flows as the water in the river rises and falls. This produces the blow wells so common on the peninsula. Along the shores of both rivers this open porous gravel has been partially sealed in past ages by the sediment contained in the flood waters of both rivers. Hence when the water rises rapidly in the [illegible] and Willamette the water does not percolate through sufficiently rapid to fill the great area as fast as the rivers rise, hence there is a basin or reservoir of several feet in depth beneath the peninsula to be filled with water. This is connected directly with the well in question and as the water flows in to it at the top it is dispersed among the open gravel of the reservoir. W. H. SMITH

Island City correspondence, June 3: It has rained for the past twenty-four hours here, and a decided change in the weather, cold and frost, is looked for if it clears off.

The fourth act of "Galba, the Gladiator," to be produced at the New Market to-night, is pronounced by able critics to be the most dramatic scene ever put upon the stage.

Miss Kate S. Downs will read "As You Like It," this evening at the regular literary entertainment of the San Greal Society of the First Presbyterian church. Admission free. All invited.

Yesterday the travel by the steamer City of Sellwood to City View park, Sellwood and Milwaukee showed the popularity of that lively craft, as she carried nearly everybody going to either of those places.

The Kalama train arrived half an hour behind time yesterday. The track through submerged meadows along the Columbia is crowded with cattle, which will not take water for all the whistling of the locomotive, and have to be fairly shoved off, causing much delay.

Mr. A. D. Tufts has gone to Tillamook to drive over his band of short horn cattle. He has a ranch over there, where the grass is ever green and the skies are ever clear, or never clear, one or the other, and he expects to raise from his short horns over there the finest cattle ever seen.

The bark Colona left up from Astoria at 3 P. M. yesterday in tow of the E. N. Cooke. She will probably arrive here this afternoon. She brings twenty Chinese passengers. One is the wife of Wing Mow Lung, a Chinese merchant of this city. Another is Fung Chak Yin, a member of the Baptist Mission here, who has been over to preach to his countrymen.

THE EAST SIDE.

Young people's meeting, as usual, this evening at the M. E. church.

John McNear was arrested last night for being drunk and disorderly.

Wallace R. Struble is in the city from Corvallis, to remain until to-morrow.

There will be a meeting of the teachers of the M. E. Sunday school this evening at the church parlors.

Eight strawberries were brought in from Mount Tabor Saturday that weighed eight ounces—an ounce each.

Mrs. Leathers desires to express thanks to those who aided in saving her property from destruction on the night of the fire.

On account of the serious illness of the wife of Councilman Laing, the party that was announced to take place Saturday night at the engine house in Holladay's addition was postponed.

A large barge of lumber from La Camas arrived here Saturday. The lumber is intended for the improvement of J street. Street Commissioner Bartel began laying the planking on that street Saturday.

It was announced yesterday at the Methodist church that next Sunday being children's day the entire day would be devoted to appropriate exercises. A committee has the programme in hand. The church will be tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers.

Young Hawkins will have his examination this afternoon at 10 o'clock in the justice court. Marshal McMillan has secured possession of the shotgun he stole, and also most of the other articles the young criminal took. It looks as if it would go hard with him.

It is suggested that it would be better for the city for the street line to be laid along Fourth street instead of Fifth. Along Fourth are located the principal places of business, and it would be more convenient to have the line on that street than on Fifth. It would make little difference with the company which street they put their line on.

This evening is the night of the regular meeting of the city council, but the school meeting will also be held, and perhaps the council will adjourn in order that councilmen may attend the school meeting. This has been the custom heretofore. The mayor has said that several special sessions of the council would probably be held that all business may be closed by the time the new officers come in.

The adjourned annual school meeting will take place to-night. It is earnestly hoped every one who can make it possible so to do will be on hand. Matters of great moment to the educational interests of the city will be passed on. Steps will be taken to complete Stephens addition school house, and perhaps arrange for the erection of a new building to take the place of the rooms rented on J street, and relieve the prospective overcrowded condition of the Central. These interests are sufficient to call out a full attendance.

Yesterday evening a little boy came running up to Fourth, in great excitement. Mr. Powell, of the Pacific, was passing at the time, and went with the boy to the second house from the northeast corner of Third and J streets. Going into the house he saw two men engaged in what seemed to be a desperate struggle. One had a hatchet, with which he was trying to strike the other man, who was on the floor. A woman was endeavoring to prevent the man who had the hatchet from striking the other. Mr. Powell seized the hatchet and then separated the two. The man who had the hatchet then made off. His antagonist was struck about the head, but was not much hurt. No one seemed to know who they were, or what gave rise to the difficulty. It will doubtless be investigated and all the facts brought out.

CARD OF THANKS.

At a meeting held by the general body of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this city it was unanimously

Resolved, That its members express their sincere thanks to the press of Portland for the kind aid, generously and gratuitously rendered them in their late successful venture of procuring the means of American sympathizers in the Irish national cause; and it was further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in all the principal journals of the city, viz: MORNING OREGONIAN, Portland Daily News, Weekly World, Evening Telegram, Evening Democrat and Catholic Sentinel.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE MULLAN TUNNEL.—A gentleman who arrived here a day or two since over the Northern Pacific, went into the Mullan tunnel to where the "cave in" was. He thinks it will be some time before the obstruction will be removed, as it covers the track for about forty yards and the cave extends up into the mountain, no one knows how far. As fast as any dirt is removed more comes down, but it may be feasible to timber a passage through it. The tunnel is about three-fourths of a mile long, and to get past it parties walk a mile and a quarter over the summit or are driven around three miles. It is understood that the company will immediately begin laying an overhead track, on the line that was used before the tunnel was finished. This can be done in a few days and will obviate future delays to passenger or freight traffic, no matter how long the tunnel is blockaded.

WHY WAS HE RELEASED?—Some weeks ago Pat O'Brien, a notoriously rough character, was captured by two policemen in the act of burglary. There was no question as to his guilt and the evidence came before the grand jury. Inquiry comes to THE OREGONIAN as to why he was not indicted and tried, or why "not a true bill" was not returned. In the latter case, it would have been proper to discharge him; but it seems he was allowed his liberty on condition that he leave the state and stay away. He has not left the state, but has been around town drunk since his release. To a disinterested spectator it looks as if this case furnished very poor encouragement to the police for the capture of criminals. Why was he not prosecuted?

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The elegant steamer Alaskan has been chartered by the members of G Company for a moonlight excursion this evening. The steamer will leave Ash street dock at 7:30 P. M. There will be a full moon this evening and it is expected that a large number will participate in the festivities. Two bands have been engaged. Parson & Bray's orchestra will furnish dancing music, and the Dodworth band will furnish concert music. Allsky will furnish refreshments. A pleasant time is anticipated. Tickets can be purchased at D. W. Prentice's music store up to 5 P. M. All those having invitations will present them there and receive tickets.

THE NEW PAPER MILL.—Work is being crowded forward on the Columbia River Paper Company's mill says the La Camas News. The foundation of the smaller of the two buildings is completed and is now ready for the brick. In the main building the window frames are in position and the wall being built up around them. The stone work will all be completed next week, the material all being on the ground. The frame for the big arch which is to join the two buildings is finished and lays in the carpenter shop; in shape and size it looks like the wheel house of the Alaskan. The brick is mostly on the ground.

LOWER PRICE FOR POTATOES.—Notwithstanding the high price paid for potatoes a week or two ago, farmers did not dispose of all they had and are somewhat disgusted now when they bring in a load to find that there is no sale for them even at half what they were offered a short time since. There are probably 2,600 bushels of old potatoes "in sight" which will bring the holders very little. However they are all in small lots, no one having more than a load or two. Farmers cannot tell just how many potatoes they will have to sell before they have done planting, and it is better to have a few left over than to not have enough.

THE RIVERS.—The Columbia at Wallula fell one foot in the twenty-four hours ending at midnight. The Willamette at Portland fell one inch in the twenty-four hours ending at 2 P. M. yesterday, and from 2 P. M. to 1 o'clock this morning fell two inches, marking 24.5, a total fall of three-tenths of a foot from the highest mark this year. Yesterday's weather was cool—almost cold during the forenoon, and there will be a further fall during the next two days. We have now had seven days of moderate and cool weather, and the longer it keeps up the better all hands will be pleased.

DID NOT BELL HIS BULL.—The question as to who should put a bell on a cat caused grave discussion in a community in days long past. Now-a-days a man undertakes to put a bell on a bull without stopping to consider the matter and suffers a fracture of the arm. The man is Hon. D. L. Russell, of Washougal, who a few days since tried to put a bell upon his bull, while the animal was fast in stanchions in the stable. The brute in some manner got Mr. Russell's arm between his horns and the timbers and crushed the bone.

GOING TO THE HEIGHTS.—The Labbe Bros., (Antoine, Blaise and John) and their families, go to their farm over the hill west and south of the city, during the present week. This has been their custom for several years past, and they find a few months' stay fully as beneficial as going to the seaside. Other families go out to their farms for a brief stay in the summer. The Labbes have erected a new and roomy house on their mountain home. Mr. A. Labbe is much better, though still crippled with paralysis.

A BOLD BRUIN.—A few days since, says the Oregon City Enterprise, as W. T. Whitlock and family were making a call at Mr. Duchey's place, near the Clackamas bridge, they were all surprised at seeing a large black bear come out of the woods. He climbed a fence, then stopped and scanned the crowd, after which he walked deliberately into the woods. No weapon was at hand, so he was allowed to depart unmolested. A hunt by neighbors later in the day failed to find him.

THE FALL OF THE BASTILE.—At the meeting of the French residents which took place yesterday at Liebig's hall, it was decided to celebrate the 14th of July, 1887, the 98th anniversary of the Fall of the Bastile, as it has been done for several years past. A committee will be appointed at the next meeting to take such steps as are deemed necessary for the occasion.

DELAYED PASSENGERS AND MAILS.—At 10 o'clock last night, a train from the Northern Pacific arrived bringing delayed passengers, including a large number of immigrants. It also brought three days' letter and five days' paper mail from the East. The letters will be distributed and delivered this morning.

VICKSBURG.—Mr. John Fiske's illustrated lecture on this theme is given at the Tabernacle this evening at 8 o'clock. His fourth High school lecture is at 3:30 o'clock, on the "Declaration of Independence."

FOR THE NANAIMO SUFFERERS.—The East Oregonian office sends to THE OREGONIAN five dollars for the fund, half of the same being handed them for that purpose.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK June 4.—The stock market to-day displayed more activity than on any previous short Saturday and was unusually strong, especially in the last hour There was considerable buying by foreigners in anticipation of higher figures in London on Monday The principal element of strength however was renewed cornering of the shorts of which it is estimated a large amount are still outstanding A half dozen stocks monopolized most of interest in trading and movements in others were small and unimportant. Fort Worth and Denver made a sharp advance of 5 per cent but nearly half this was lost toward the close when publication of the weekly bank statement with its expansion in loans and material decrease in the surplus reserve checked the advance Richmond and West Point showed the next widest fluctuations in the general list The active list generally [illegible] advances of small fractions but Fort Worth and Denver is up [illegible] and Hocking coal [illegible] per cent

DR. JOHN BULL'S

Smith's Tonic Syrup

FEVER and AGUE

Or CHILLS and FEVER,

AND ALL MALARIAL DISEASES.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the SAFE, CERTAIN, SPEEDY and PERMANENT cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever whether of short or long standing He refers to the entire Western and Southern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion that in no case whatever will it fail to cure if the directions are strictly followed and carried out In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked more especially in difficult and long standing cases Usually this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order Should the patient, however require a cathartic medicine after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic a single dose of KENT'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient Use no other
